Probably the best theological book store in the area.

(Cokesbury) United Seminary Book Store, 651 638 1960

Barnes and Noble also has a good selection and will take orders

And of course Amazon.com

www.ECTN.org for Trinity Institute conferences or www.trinitywallstreet.org for other resources at Trinity Church Wall Street.

Or if you prefer the West Coast, try www.gracecathedral.org

The web has a plethora of resources, use it wisely.

St. Marks Cathedral has an excellent library and you can borrow books from it. Many churches have libraries as do a number of the priests of the diocese. If necessary you can probably make arrangements to use either Luther's or United's library.

The Minnesota Council of Churches and the St. Paul Area Council of Churches are both places to find resources particularly in the areas of justice and service ministries.
